MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

DWAYNE ESHENBAUGH, AIA

Originally from the suburbs of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, I moved to Las Vegas in 1984 where I was stationed while in the U.S. Air Force. Today, I am an architect, an interior designer, a Rebel, a Wildcat, an artist, a rock star, a writer, an athlete, etc, etc, etc,. According to Myers Briggs, my personality type is INTP (sometimes INTJ). I am married to my best friend and am a proud father of two amazing daughters who both attend the University of Nevada, Reno. I am the President and owner of NOVUS Architecture where our primary work focus is within the commercial and hospitality market sectors. Our team is awesome and I am truly grateful to work alongside them every day.

I am an AIA Member (and have been since 1994) because of the organization's history, rich traditions, deep resources, and progressive vision of an inclusive, highly educated, engaged, and diverse profession. I am also an AIA Member because of the camaraderie of our membership and forum to share both professional and personal experiences.

What is the most important thing you've learned? In my 22 year career, I've learned that adaptability/flexibility are critical to both personal and project success. These words encompass the traits of collaboration. Our clients and projects are dynamic, not static, and our approach must therefore follow suit. The sooner one learns this the sooner one will find success.

What is your favorite piece of architecture, and why? I've been privileged to travel to some wonderful places in the world and have seen some incredible architecture, but my answer surfaces quickly. My family and I were able to visit Spain in December of 2014 and toured The Sagrada Familia in Barcelona designed by architect Antoni Gaudi. The interior space and its spectacular play of light was the most beautiful and moving space my eyes have ever seen – it literally brought tears to our eyes.

How do you think the profession will evolve in the next 5 to 10 years? In my opinion, the profession will face many challenges over the next 5 to 10 years primarily due to the fallout from the recession. The facts are clear that many left the profession for other "jobs", professional fees are still in recovery mode, and the overall economy (while growing) is doing so at a slow but steady pace. Although there are opportunities for innovation, in general, I believe the profession will be status quo for the next 5 to 10 years while professional firms restock talent (and experience which is a limited resource and more difficult to obtain). I'm optimistic that the profession will gain significant momentum in 10 years to include technology (everyone using BIM), sustainability (all projects are sustainable), and professional practice (firms managed by innovative/ creative minds who think and do differently than their predecessors).

Where will you be in 20 years? In 20 years, I'll still be the "old-guy" in the office. I'll show-up, drink my espresso, and tell stories about "the big one" that I'm about to land while disrupting everyone's productivity. LOL – I'm kidding, but that scenario pleasantly reminded me of my dear friend Julio Lucchesi (who is no longer with us) back in 1990 when I started working for LGA prior to his retirement. Ideally, I will enjoy working less, playing my guitar more, fly-fishing more, and traveling the world with my family while searching for my second favorite piece of architecture.

AIA Member Responsibilities

I would like to echo what Mark Ryan (2015 Past President) wrote last year. ...simply paying your dues and placing AIA behind your name is not what the AIA is about... without member involvement and active participation the Chapter will cease to exist. The organization promotes and protects our profession and in order to maintain it we need your involvement. How?

- Read this newsletter and become informed about Services and Programs.
- Attending and participating in Membership Meetings where you can network, develop relationships and share ideas with your colleagues.
- Be an advocate for your profession and encourage others to join the AIA.
- Contributing to the advancement of knowledge in the profession. We thrive in one of the most complicated industries where innovation occurs on a daily basis. Your experience is a valuable resource – share it!
- Responding as a citizen-architect to community needs. When members become involved in civic dialogue communities become better places and our profession is more highly valued.

- Stepping forward and supporting the current leaders. ...and this is a great way for you to become a future leader of our Chapter!

Architecture Las Vegas

We have been meeting regularly with Andrew Kiraly, who is the Editor of our Architecture Las Vegas Magazine. Andrew has crafted an amazing story well for the re-birth of the publication and has assigned his most talented writers to produce this publication. I can't wait to see the final draft. The 1st issue of the magazine will hit the streets at the end of March. ...so mark your calendars for March 31st to attend the unveiling celebration of the magazine at the World Market Center. We hope to see all of you at the event!

At our February Membership Meeting (The Way We Were Panel Discussion – 1956-1971) we were privileged to have some of our Senior Architects trade stories of what it was like during the early years of our AIA Chapter. We were honored to have Senator Richard Bryan moderate the panel. Thank you to George Tate, AIA Emeritus, Leo Borns, AIA Emeritus, David Welles, AIA Emeritus, and Gary Guy Wilson, AIA for sharing some of their memories and trade secrets with us.

We continue to “march” :) through the 1st quarter of our Chapter's 60 years and this month's membership meeting will cover Mid Century Modern Architecture with Alan Hess as our guest speaker. It is shaping up to be a unique meeting with various industry colleagues attending. The meeting will be held at the UNLV Lied Library.

Dominic Armandariz, President-Elect of the AIAS (UNLV Student Chapter) is leading an effort to bring back a Mentoring Program. This can be an important step in preparing a future Architect for the real world. Our Board is enthused about this and will work with the student Chapter to bring back the program.

We look forward to seeing you at our March events!

DID YOU FORGET TO RENEW YOUR MEMBERSHIP? ARRANGE MONTHLY INSTALLMENTS!

Your AIA Membership renewal was due on January 31st, 2016.

IF you haven't renewed.... DO IT TODAY!

DON'T BECOME INACTIVE!

To renew, you can make your payment by going to www.aia.org and select “Renew Membership” at the top of the page. IF you'd like to pay your dues in installments, it can easily be arranged by selecting the “Dues Installment Program” located on the bottom of the page. You can arrange to pay your dues in monthly installments between now and June 30, 2016 – and that will keep your membership active. Those who do not renew will become “inactive” and will not be eligible for member benefits. Don't let that happen to you.

Go ahead and renew your membership today.

ARCHIPAC REPORT CHRIS LUJAN, ASSOC. AIA

As we wrap-up the Nevada Caucuses, several key issues to our state have gained national exposure. As the election process continues issues that directly impact our profession will be addressed; however the manner in which these issues are resolved depends on how loud our collective voice is.

Through the AIA's ArchiPAC our concerns are voiced to those elected officials that are responsible for passing nationwide legislation that impacts Architects. In order to fund such political actions the ArchiPAC depends upon the support of the AIA members. Currently, the AIA is supporting the annual Race for the ArchiCUP—a fundraising initiative that competes regional AIA components in an effort to strengthen AIA member awareness of our political engagement.

Locally, Eric Roberts and I are leading the Western Mountain Region ArchiCUP team. We are currently recruiting team members who want to help us in this effort and if you are interested in joining, please feel free to contact me at clujan@tska.com. If you would like to support our teams fundraising initiative, please visit <https://archipac.org/contribute> and be sure to list "Lujan" in the "who told you about ArchiPAC" field.

MARCH MEMBER MEETING “1956 - 1971 - MID CENTURY MODERN ARCHITECTURE WITH ALAN HESS”

In March AIA Las Vegas continues our year-long celebration of our 60th Anniversary with a special event. AIA Las Vegas has partnered with the UNLV University Libraries to present architect and historian Alan Hess. He is author of nineteen books on Modern architecture and urbanism in the mid-twentieth century; his subjects include John Lautner, Oscar Niemeyer, Frank Lloyd Wright, the Ranch House, Googie architecture, Las Vegas, and Palm Springs. He is the architecture critic of the San Jose Mercury News. His presentation is titled “American Bauhaus”. The Bauhaus created innovative architecture reflecting the realities of a new century when Walter Gropius founded it in Germany in 1919. Though Las Vegas has not yet achieved that fame, it introduced equally radical ideas addressing the fast-changing realities of technology, economics, urbanism and lifestyle since 1945. It's time to acknowledge the full heritage that Las Vegas has contributed to Modern architecture.

Peter Michel, Special Collections Curator for UNLV University Libraries, has assembled an exhibit of midcentury modern design and architecture in Las Vegas for viewing as a part of this special evening. Plan to join us for this special evening. Enjoy the exhibit and learn more about this important architecture form.

Join us on Wednesday, March 16th, at 6:00PM at the Lied Library on the UNLV Campus to celebrate another special AIA 60th Anniversary event.

6:00PM – 7:30PM Mid-Century Modern Exhibit Viewing – 1st Floor 6:30PM – 7:30PM Reception – Goldfield Room – 3rd Floor

7:30PM – Alan Hess – “Mid Century Modern Architecture”

NO charge for attending however RSVP IS REQUIRED Click here to RSVP

Campus maps with parking information can be found at <http://www.unlv.edu/maps>.

PARKING: Fifty parking spaces are reserved for AIA members in parking lots I and N, which are accessible from Harmon Ave. off of Swenson Street. These will be marked with a “reserved” bag over the meter. If you miss one of the reserved parking spots, you may park at any of the metered spaces and pay for parking until 7:00PM. After 7:00pm you may park for free in any staff, metered, or student parking space.

APRIL 2016 Art Architecture & Design Month

The month of April has been officially designated as Art, Architecture & Design Month by Mayor Carolyn Goodman. Our purpose is to increase public awareness and perception of the importance of quality design in enriching the lives of all citizens, and to enhance the public's enjoyment and appreciation for design. It is a time to celebrate the artists, architects and designers whose work contributes to the beauty and livability of our built and natural environments. It is an opportunity to unite the members of the design professions – artists, architects, interior designers, graphic artists, landscape architects – and all design professionals – in an effort to showcase their contributions in creating a sense of place in Las Vegas.

WE will kick-off "Art Architecture & Design" month on Thursday, March 31st with a special celebration and the publication of our "ARCHITECTURE LAS VEGAS" magazine. AIA Las Vegas in collaboration with Nevada Public Radio and Christopher Guy Showrooms will host this reception on Thursday, March 31st.....at the Christopher Guy Showroom at the World Market Center. All members of the design community are invited to attend. Celebrate with us on March 31st when we kick-off the Art Architecture & Design month with the publication of our April issue of Architecture Las Vegas and receive your copy of the magazine ..... hot off the press!

HIGH SCHOOL DESIGN AWARDS

The 2015-2016 AIA Las Vegas High School Design Awards program is underway. This year's challenge is for students to design a Mt. Charleston vacation chalet, sited on the Cathedral Picnic Area on Kyle Canyon Road. Ryan Sisti, AIA Chair of the HSDA program, and his team of advisors is currently working with five schools and guiding the students through the development of their drawings. To read the whole challenge click here.

If you'd like to be an advisor and work with the students, contact Ryan Sisti, AIA at Ryan\_Sisti@Gensler.com

This year's High School Design Awards Program will be held on Wednesday, April 20th..in the Architecture Studies Library, UNLV School of Architecture, Brussels Street, UNLV Campus. Plan to attend and meet the future architects and designers.

You will probably be hiring these kids one day.....or maybe you'll be working for them!

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YOU PEOPLE..... DON'T YOU WANT YOUR $50.00???

A SPECIAL DEAL FOR AIA LAS VEGAS MEMBERS

WE NEED TO GROW OUR CHAPTER! There is strength in numbers... and our architectural community in Las Vegas has a lot to offer. If each individual member of AIA Las Vegas brought one new member to the Chapter, we would not only double our membership...we would greatly increase our ability to promote, protect, and serve each member individually, as well as build, protect and advocate on behalf of the profession.

We're betting that you know at least one person in the industry – whether it's an Architect, Intern, Architecture student, consultant, engineer, contractor, interior designer, landscape architect, manufacturer, supplier or product representative who would benefit from AIA membership. All you have to do is encourage them to join AIA Las Vegas...and when they do...we'll give you $50.00!

You Can't Lose.

You help your Chapter, your profession and yourself at the same time....

You do a great thing by connecting your friend to AIA.
And you get $50.00 bucks!

This "Each One – Bring One" deal is good from now through March 31, 2016,
And we're giving you the tools to do it.

Application forms for Architects, Associates and Allied Members are available on the AIA Las Vegas website (Join). Download the forms and write your name on the top of each application. Duplicate the forms as necessary, and use them to encourage other to join AIA Las Vegas.

When we receive the member application (with your name on it) we'll process your friend's membership immediately and send you $50.00. It's that easy!

Convene for Green presented by Green Chips

Join us this week, March 3, 2016 for the Convene for Green Summit! Convene for Green is a high-level regional discussion around developing goals and ideas, as well as promoting the important economic, social, and environmental successes of the Southern Nevada region and identifying key challenges for the coming year that can be tackled head-on via uniquely innovative partnerships and community engagement.

Now in its eighth year, this annual sustainability discussion convenes an impressive roster of prestigious leaders from the public, private, non-profit and academic sectors. Convene for Green strives to provide an inside look into the unique challenges our region faces in the multi-faceted sectors of sustainability while promoting our greatest success to both residents and visitors.

The AIA is a supporter of this event and encourages everyone to attend. The COTE Committee will be at the conference as a community partner and we'd love to see you there. For more information and tickets, please visit: <http://greenchips.org/convene-green/>

Supporting Sustainable Design Series

Join us for a quarterly lecture series focused on sustainable rating systems and programs that support sustainable design and construction projects from infrastructure to healthcare.

- March 24, 2016 – Envision
- June 23 – Sustainable Sites Initiative
- September 22 – Green Globes & LEED
- December 8 – Well (Healthcare)

Join us on March 24 at 7:30am to kick off the series and discuss the Envision Rating System, developed by the Institute for Sustainable Infrastructure and the Zofnass Program for Sustainable Infrastructure at Harvard University Graduate School for Design. Envision provides a sustainable framework for evaluating and rating all types and sizes of infrastructure projects. Go to <http://aialasvegas.org> to register for this program. Sponsorships are available for individual sessions and/or the complete Supporting Sustainability Design Series. Sponsors will be listed on the promotional materials and could host the session at their offices. Individual session sponsorship are $400 and the series sponsorship is $1,200. ## NCARB RELEASES ARE 5.0 DETAILS

Each division of ARE 5.0 will have between 80 to 120 questions and incorporate the latest testing technology.

The next version of the Architect Registration Examination® (ARE®), ARE 5.0, will include six divisions with test durations ranging between three and a half to five hours—a substantial decrease from ARE 4.0. Each division will include at least 80 questions, one to two case studies, and incorporate new testing technologies. This news is the latest in a series of updates from the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB), designed to prepare aspiring architects for the launch of ARE 5.0 later this year.

ARE 5.0 Question Types and Case Studies In December 2013, NCARB announced that the exam would replace vignettes with new question types: hot spots and drag-and-place, plus the incorporation of case studies. In addition to these new testing methods, the exam will continue to use multiple choice, check-all-that-apply, and quantitative fill-in-the-blank. “Case studies are a collection of questions that are used to assess a candidate’s ability to synthesize multiple pieces of information, which is how architects solve problems on a daily basis,” said NCARB Director of Examination, Jared Zurn, AIA, NCARB. “By incorporating the latest testing methods, the exam will more closely align with modern architectural practice.”

To help make the transition to ARE 5.0 as smooth as possible, NCARB created a series of short videos about the new question types, available on YouTube at www.youtube.com/user/NCARBorg.

• Case Studies • Hot Spots • Drag-and-Place

ARE 5.0 Test Durations

With the adoption of enhanced testing technologies and a more focused content strategy, exam developers were able to shave eight hours off the current exam, saving candidates time away from work and family. ARE 5.0 will also include six individual divisions, compared to seven in ARE 4.0.

Developed by NCARB, the ARE is used to test an aspiring architect’s knowledge and skills, and is required for initial licensure in all U.S. jurisdictions. NCARB will begin the final stages of ARE 5.0 exam development and administration testing this spring, which will determine the official launch date of ARE 5.0 in late 2016. ARE 4.0 will be available until June 30, 2018. For more information about ARE 5.0 visit www.ncarb.org/ARE5.

We are off to a good start this year and have several Hard Hat Tours and Memoir Mondays in the planning stages so stay tuned!

We had our first Hard Hat Tour of the year at Lake Mead Christian Academy with SH Architecture and Core Construction in February. It was a great tour that explained the nuances of wood construction along with the difficulties of an extremely tight budget. Thank you to SH Architecture, Core Construction, and Lake Mead Christian Academy for making the tour possible! We are always looking for projects to tour so please contact Jeni Panars at jpanars@tska.com or 702-456-3000 if you have any buildings under construction and are willing to take a group of emerging professionals on a tour.

The first Memoir Monday of the year will be on March 21st with Jon Sparer, AIA. Jon is currently the AIA Las Vegas chapter President Elect, former principal at YWS Architects, and an all-around great guy!

The details will be announced the second week of March so please be on the lookout and RSVP. There is no charge to attend ep|yaf events, but space is limited so, don't put your RSVP off! Hope to see you all there.
